County Judge says

People of area will have ambulance service provided

The latest development in the saga of Emergency Ambulance Service shows that over in the eastern half of Medina County the city governments are satisfied with their operations and will continue cooperating with the County to provide this service to the people.

Meanwhile back in the confines of Hondo, County Judge Jerome Decker has assured all Hondo residents and those residents living in the Hondo area, including D'Hanis, Yancey, Quihi and all other areas, that "they will have ambulance service."

He said: "We do not know how the mechanics of the operation will work, but there will be an ambulance service just like there has been for the past six months. I have instructed Bud Guinn, who has managed the service for Hondo, to continue operating on the same basis and cover this whole area."

Guinn reported Monday that in the five months from January through May the ambulance had made 87 calls, with only eight of these being outside the city limits of Hondo.

Both Guinn and Judge Decker received many telephone calls over the weekend from persons inside and outside Hondo wanting to know "if there would be an ambulance service."

"There most definitely will be," the Judge reiterated.

During the meantime, he talked with Mayor Sid Malone of Devine and Mayor Larry Haby of Castroville. Both mayors said their cities will continue operating the ambulance service in cooperation with the county.

City Council of Hondo actually was within its rights in turning back the service as far as the minutes of an August 30, 1973 meeting are concerned. Portions of those minutes read:

"... The County will purchase three ambulances and equipment, pay the insurance, equip them with two-way radios and establish a dispatching service from the Sheriff's office—one ambulance to be stationed at Hondo, one in Devine and one in Castroville. Each ambulance to be a back-up to the others should the need arise. ... The cities will obtain the personnel to operate the service, keep the records of their operation and submit such records to the Commissioners Court. The County will then subsidize each City in the amount of its loss on the operation. Each City will be responsible for keeping the records and billing the service, at no cost to the County. At the end of June, 1974 another look will be taken of the operation and at that time the County would be in a position to subsidize the cities or take over the operation. "This proposal was accepted unanimously."

So the minutes support Hondo Council actions in a way. However, the last portion of the above paragraph, which states, "... at the end of June 1974, ..." would indicate that all three cities and the County would put their heads together at this time and take a look.

However, the Hondo City Council took up the matter at a meeting called especially for a public hearing on the proposed budget and voted to give the ambulance back to the County prior to any general meeting.

This handing over of the service was accomplished in a letter from Mayor J. Gordon Barry to County Judge Jerome Decker:

"Honorable Judge: "In its meeting of 18 June 1974, the Hondo City Council voted unanimously to turn over to the County the operation of the ambulance service now being operated by the City. This is in accord with the option agreed upon between the City and County at the inception of the program last December."

"A full accounting of the financial status of the Hondo operation will be given the County July 1, 1974. As of 1 May the Hondo operation shows a loss of $3,852.52 (this was actually $3,800.52) with accounts receivable of $1,828.50. A statement is enclosed."

"A full and final statement will be mailed to you immediately after 1 July, J. G. Barry, Mayor for the City of Hondo."

The accounts receivable list attached to this letter has been updated by approximately nine payments to the ambulance service since the Anvil Herald appeared last week.

Only two accounts are over six months old, having been made on January 19. Three or four were made in February and the remainder were made in March, April and May.

"Some of these accounts are probably awaiting insurance settlements," Judge Decker said. "Some are probably non-collectable. But in no way at this time can it be said that the city lost approximately $2,000 on this six month venture. And since our agreement said the County would make up any deficit, the City of Hondo actually was out only a small amount of bookkeeping costs."

So the saga is continued into another episode with the County assuring local and area residents that "you need not worry, there will be ambulance service if you need it."

THE BURNING QUESTION

... in my mind on the Emergency Ambulance Service here in Hondo is:

"Why is the City Council and the Mayor so deadset against the operation of a much needed service when it is guaranteed by the County that any deficit will be paid out of County coffers?"

With the exception of some extra bookkeeping, the program cannot cost the City any money. The County's assurance that it will make up any deficit has alleviated that possibility.

There can be no doubt that such a service is needed. And it would seem that since it won't cost the City anything the humanitarian thing to do would be to join hands with the County and provide the service.

Bud Guinn is handling most of the details; therefore, the brunt of the work never falls on the City. Collection of monies is a City responsibility under the program as it was operating. Perhaps this is the big rub.

But even then I can't understand the calloused, hardnosed attitude taken by the Council and Mayor.

Perhaps they can give me and the public an explanation that will clear up my confusion. If anyone, or all, of them would like to offer such an explanation, I offer them this column in which to do so.

SEWAGE

... is not a pleasant thought. And thanks to Elmer Faseler and his water department crew local sewage poses no serious problems to Hondo residents.

But it won't be so in the near future unless we build a new sewage treatment facility. Our present plant is operating at peak load and under certain conditions sometimes is overloaded.

Supposedly, the city engineer, Frank Bain of San Antonio, has made an application for a permit for a new plant. Or, he has told City Manager Fritz Leinweber he has done so.

No one else on the Council knows, because they were all asking at last week's meeting.

However, there is a fly in the ointment. The location on the map Bain is supposed to have for the permit is not a suitable one. "We need to go farther down country [out of town] than his map shows," Faseler told Council members. If we are going to build it where he says, then we might as well leave it in town."

Another item looms as an almost deadshot certainty: the building of such a plant is going to require a big, big outlay of money the city doesn't have without a bond issue.

Now, I'm sure this would be a revenue bond, which would not cost any tax money, but would come back in revenue from the sewer department charges. But the entire sum is still "out-of-the-pocket" money for Hondo residents.

So to lighten the load, why not seriously study the possibility of federal funds with an application through the Alamo Area Council of Governments? If such a grant could be obtained, the bite from the old pocketbook would certainly be eased.

And, why not get Engineer Bain to come and sit down with the Council and talk out where the best location would be. At least place it far enough out of town to prevent any future problems.

FISHING RECORDS

... is something Bob Zerr probably knows about. Anyway he and Mrs. Zerr win enough tournaments down in Mexico with their fine fishing. One of these days I want them to sit down and make me a list of all the fishing tournaments they and other area residents have won below the border.

And speaking of records: Some of us non-fishing type might not know that the record largemouth Bass was caught in Medina Lake. H. R. Magee of Kingsland caught the 13 pound, 8 ounce record holder in January of 1943.

Could that be right Bob Zerr? Could a record stand that long with fishermen like you, Harry Filleman and Henry Flory around? I didn't know that!

RESERVISTS

... in my prejudiced opinion are the modern day Minute Men of America.

They serve as back-up soldiers, sailors, airmen or Marines to the regular forces and place themselves "at ready" in case of any emergency.

For many years, they were known as "weekend soldiers" and RARE KILL ... Otto Lindeburg of Quihi awoke early Tuesday morning to find this prickly intruder bayed by his dogs. A crack shot, Lindeburg quickly bagged his first porcupine. What a porcupine was doing wandering around Quihi is anybody's guess, but the creatures have been known to roam the rough hill country to the north.

Tom Hollmig will head Lions Club

Installation of officers highlighted a Ladies Night meeting of the Hondo Lions Club Tuesday night at City Park, with Tom Hollmig taking the reins of president.

District Governor Bill Tyler of the Harlandale Club in San Antonio served as installing officer and charged the local club to work harder for service and to obtain new members.

Three vice presidents were installed and they included: Billy Harrell, first vice president; John Windrow, second vice president; and Kenneth Flory, third vice president.

John Kalinowski is the new Lion Tamer; Lupe Alvarez is the Tail Twister; and new directors are Jackie Winkler, Richard Lynch and Bob Peden.

W. W. Watson, who has served the club as secretary-treasurer for a long time, will continue in that post.

The annual Medina County Crops Tour will be held Monday, July 1, according to Glenn Bragg, County Extension Agent. Persons interested in attending are asked to meet at Mumme's Inc. parking lot located at the intersection of Highway 90 and 173 at 9:20 a.m.

Purpose of the tour is to give people in the Medina County area who are interested in agriculture an opportunity to observe the latest recommended management practices such as crop varieties, fertility, irrigation, etc., says the County Agent.

The tour was planned by the Medina County Crops Subcommittee of the Program Building Committee. Fred Yanta is chairman of the Crops Subcommittee.

The Devine Chamber of Commerce has agreed to sponsor the free barbecue for those on the tour which is scheduled in St. Joseph's Catholic Church Hall in Devine at noon.

Dr. Ed Colburn, Area Agronomist, and Dr. J. W. Stewart, Area Entomologist, Uvalde Extension Research Center, will be present to discuss several items of interest on the tour.

SHATTERED MEMORIES ... Razing of a part of the old Lacy school Monday wrote "finished" to the many years the old building has stood as a landmark to education in Hondo. The west portion of the structure, which actually is the original old high school building constructed in about 1909, will remain for storage. Torn down was the portion built about 1926. It was named for Olen Lacy who served as president of the school board for many years. Classes were held there from 1927 until 1971 when the new McDowell School absorbed the last of the students housed in the original Hondo school. Meyer Elementary took the younger children in 1954, and the new Hondo High School had taken the higher students in 1951. The old Lacy Gymnasium still stands and is presently occupied by the Building Trades class. This fall the class members will begin work on renovating half of the gym to house the high school band hall. It will be sound proof and air conditioned, and should be ready by the beginning of school in 1975. [Photos by Tony Mendoza]

Jury tells two: 'guilty'

Two Hondo women were found guilty by a Medina County court Thursday of disrupting classes in Hondo public schools during last spring's boycott.

The women, Mrs. Orelia Cortinez and Mrs. Isabel Correa, were both fined $72.50 plus court costs by Judge Joe Briscoe.

Judge Briscoe was sitting in place of County Judge Jerome Decker who had earlier disqualified himself in the case.

County Attorney Allen Lee paraded two school administrators, eight teachers, a school nurse, and one parent before the jury while defense attorney called only the two women to the stand in their own defense.

Each of the defense witnesses testified to the disruptive activities caused by the two women and others who entered the Meyer Elementary School last February 14th. Both Mrs. Cortinez and Mrs. Correa testified they had no intentions of creating a disturbance when they entered school that day, but under cross examination both women admitted they took children other than their own.

Throughout the trial both defense and prosecution witnesses talked of a list but the women both told County Attorney Allen Lee the list had been lost and they were unable to verify the names of students on the list.

The jury received the case shortly before 7 p.m. Thursday and deliberated for over four hours before reaching their unanimous verdict.

When the jury returned from their deliberation they were polled and each responded with the guilty verdict. Members of the jury were Francisco Herrera, Diego DeLeon, John Philpott, Mrs. Marie O'Sullivan, Mrs. Milton Haby, and Mrs. T. A. Lopez.

Since the fine was less than $100 the women are unable to appeal the decision of the jury, but their attorney, Paul Rich, had ten days in which to file an appeal on constitutional grounds with the Federal Appeals Court.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Your news item concerning action by the Hondo City Council regarding ambulance service as reported on the front page of your June 20, 1974 issue of the Anvil Herald would seem to raise some questions in the minds of your readers. To begin with, the article does not have sufficient facts to enable a reader to determine who he might think is morally neglecting his duty.

As to the quotation of a member councilman, he could not as a good Christian, "not care about his neighbor". If he did say words as quoted, let us forgive him, Lord, for he knows not what he says. We would rather believe, "he cares". We believe he cares; because we believe the citizens of Hondo care when Hondo has a fireman's benefit carnival, and the neighbors contribute. Hondo citizens care when a church celebration is held in Hondo, and the neighbors are there to eat and contribute. Hondo citizens care when a fire has a chance of getting out of control and the neighboring fire fighting equipment and fighters are there to help. Hondo citizens care when they have a Chamber of Commerce membership drive, and citizens living outside the city limits are asked to join, and do join. Hondo citizens care when the neighbors sell their produce and come to Hondo to trade. Leave out the trade dollars that the businesses of Hondo receive from those living outside of the Hondo city limits, and what would Hondo be?

The above are merely material thoughts. Let us leave out what we want our neighbors to do for us. Whether they do it or not is not our responsibility. It is our responsibility as citizens whether we live in Hondo city limits or outside the city limits to see that we help our neighbor. Let us give the ambulance service some serious unbiased thought. Do we want to spend what it takes to have ambulance service for the citizens of Medina County, our neighbors traveling through, our relatives and friends who may come to visit us, our fire fighting friends from surrounding areas in the county who may be injured in an auto accident while hurrying with their fire department to put out a dangerous fire in our city, or don't we? Do we want to fulfill our corporal work of mercy to comfort the sick and injured?

As a taxpayer in my city, and a taxpayer in my county, I am willing to pay my part for ambulance service in my locality from Bexar County to Uvalde County; and from Bandera County to Frio County. I don't want to say, "Come to trade with me while you're able, but if you get hurt on the way, I don't care whether you get here or not."

I believe our county dads and city dads can get together and arrive at a method of financing an ambulance service jointly. If it can't be done, then I trust they will tell us why. If they don't think it can be justifiably done tax-wise, then I will go along with their decision. They were elected to make these kind of decisions.

Each summer people return to Hondo who lived here years ago or were stationed here during the war.

This week, Ed Aeriott of Waco and Andrew Hansen of Boston, Mass. came in to sign the guest book. Both lived here 30 years ago, and met their wives while living in Hondo. Welcome home!

Wondering what to do for the holidays coming up? How about the La Salle County Frontier Days July 2-4 at Cotulla? Sounds like a good time. Course, Devine has its St. Joseph's celebration July 4, and St. John's here in Hondo will celebrate its homecoming later in the month, on July 21.

We received several letters, such as these:

RAZING A LANDMARK . . . poses no difficulty when you have a big "cat" and a skillful driver like Bobby Zuberbueler, who drives for the County. Church plans Devine festival

With several added attractions, the annual St. Joseph's Church barbecue on Thursday, July 4, in Keller's Park beginning at 11 a.m. is expected to attract a record crowd of about 6,500 persons.

The added attractions include a Trash and Treasure booth where old jewelry, bottle, odd chinaware, crystal pieces, figurines, vases, and pictures will be on sale; and an auction which will include not only antiques, but baskets of vegetables, goats, perhaps ducks, geese and rabbits, old milk cans, bleached cow skulls, old farm implement seats . . . and no telling what else.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Morales, and Mr. and Mrs. All Moeller, general co-chairman of the event, announced that about 7,000 pounds of beef will be barbecued, about 800 pounds of beans will be cooked, about 2,000 pounds of potato salad and about 800 pounds of cole slaw will be prepared in anticipation of the record crowd.

There will be bingo and numerous amusement games under the shade of the liveoaks during the afternoon, and a list of valuable prizes will be awarded the lucky winners.

There will be a Fancy Work booth with Mrs. Dora Fernandez in charge, a Hoop Game with Mr. and Mrs. Tony Medoza in charge; Raffle, with Lola Belle Spivey and Adelle Bendeke as chairpersons; and Penny Pitch, with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pulido and family supervising.

Mr. Walter McAllister will be in charge of the Bottle Game; Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Olivares, Jr. will be in charge of the Doll Booth; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Brieden, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Schneider, and Mr. and Mrs. Randy Schott will be in charge of the Country Store; the Trash and Treasure booth will be supervised by Mesdames Marie Johnson and Louisa Garcia and daughters; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Haass, Mrs. Richard Haass and Mrs. Jack Schott will be in charge of the Fish Pond; Julian VanDamme is in charge of the barbecue crew and Francis Schmidt is chairman of the meat serving crew. Chairmen of the Auction are Mr. and Mrs. Gene Graham, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Saunders, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Suehs, and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Suehs.

did nothing more than meet and talk a lot. That's really exaggeration, for they did accomplish much. But many times it appeared there was no central guidance.

This isn't so with 99 per cent of the Reservists today. They are mingled into the overall plan of providing security for our nation by the "Total Force Concept." And in many instances they work right alongside the regulars.

As an example: some months back members of a Reserve Associate outfit flew their C-141 Starlifter into Germany on a routine mission. After landing there, they received another assignment.

An American visiting in the interior of Russia had developed internal bleeding and needed more medical care than could be provided by Russian doctors. It was decided he must be flown to Japan for the best in medical care.

Orders went out to divert the mission of the C-141 to pick up this man and fly him to Japan. Thus, United States Civilians, serving as Air Force Reservists, with outstanding cooperation from the Russians, became the first Americans to fly all the way across the Soviet Union since the infamous U-2 flights.

The following week these same men sat at the desks of their civilian jobs as doctors, lawyers, engineers, sales clerks, or what-have-you, knowing full well that their mission had saved a man's life—and in the future could well help save all America from being overrun.

We have Reservists right here in Hondo who have performed many vital tasks alongside the regular forces for the good of the country. See a letter to the editor in this week's Anvil Herald as proof.

Another meaningful assignment for Reservists on two weeks duty was witnessed by Hondo residents this week.

Members of the 321st Civil Affairs Unit, United States Army Reserve, are assisting the Alamo Area Council of Governments in carrying out a survey of economic development organizations in the AACOG Region.

Four of the 321st visited Monday with Chamber of Commerce officials to get a briefing on accomplishments, goals and dreams of the Chamber for the city.

Al Notzon, III, Executive Director of AACOG, says of this effort: As a result of this survey, we hope to develop a process for the effective use of local, state, and federal economic development resources necessary for the betterment of the regional economy. We will also use this survey as the basis for providing data and technical assistance to those institutions which request it."

It's a terrific idea and I certainly hope it brings out some usable ideas which will help our entire area.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Your news item concerning action by the Hondo City Council regarding ambulance service as reported on the front page of your June 20, 1974 issue of the Anvil Herald would seem to raise some questions in the minds of your readers. To begin with, the article does not have sufficient facts to enable a reader to determine who he might think is morally neglecting his duty.

As to the quotation of a member councilman, he could not as a good Christian, "not care about his neighbor". If he did say words as quoted, let us forgive him, Lord, for he knows not what he says. We would rather believe, "he cares". We believe he cares; because we believe the citizens of Hondo care when Hondo has a fireman's benefit carnival, and the neighbors contribute. Hondo citizens care when a museum day is held, and their neighbors are asked to help, and they pitch in and help. Hondo citizens care when a church celebration is held in Hondo, and the neighbors are there to eat and contribute. Hondo citizens care when a fire has a chance of getting out of control and the neighboring fire fighting equipment and fighters are there to help. Hondo citizens care when they have a Chamber of Commerce membership drive, and citizens living outside the city limits are asked to join, and do join. Hondo citizens care when the neighbors sell their produce and come to Hondo to trade. Leave out the trade dollars that the businesses of Hondo receive from those living outside of the Hondo city limits, and what would Hondo be?

The above are merely material thoughts. Let us leave out what we want our neighbors to do for us. Whether they do it or not is not our responsibility. It is our responsibility as citizens whether we live in Hondo city limits or outside the city limits to see that we help our neighbor. Let us give the ambulance service some serious unbiased thought. Do we want to spend what it takes to have ambulance service for the citizens of Medina County, our neighbors traveling through, our relatives and friends who may come to visit us, our fire fighting friends from surrounding areas in the county who may be injured in an auto accident while hurrying with their fire department to put out a dangerous fire in our city, or don't we? Do we want to fulfill our corporal work of mercy to comfort the sick and injured?

As a taxpayer in my city, and a taxpayer in my county, I am willing to pay my part for ambulance service in my locality from Bexar County to Uvalde County; and from Bandera County to Frio County. I don't want to say, "Come to trade with me while you're able, but if you get hurt on the way, I don't care whether you get here or not."

I believe our county dads and city dads can get together and arrive at a method of financing an ambulance service jointly. If it can't be done, then I trust they will tell us why. If they don't think it can be justifiably done tax-wise, then I will go along with their decision. They were elected to make these kind of decisions.

A taxpayer of the city of Hondo and Medina County (Name withheld)

Son: "Well, dad you know how it is. After Christmas, everything is marked down."

Bendele candidate

AUSTIN -- Approximately 620 University of Texas students were candidates for Bachelor of Business Administration degrees at the close of the spring semester.

The list of degree candidates, announced by Dean George Kozmetsky, included Gerald Irvin Bendele of 2105 Ave. F, Hondo.

Elizabeth Ann Balzen

Mr. and Mrs. Chester W. Balzen announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Elizabeth Ann, to Robert Allen Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Baker of Monahans, Texas.

Miss Balzen is a 1973 graduate of Hondo High School and is a student at Angelo State University in San Angelo, Texas.

Mr. Baker is a 1971 graduate of Sweetwater High School and is also a student at ASU. He is presently employed at Sands Finance Company in San Angelo.

An August 9 wedding is being planned.

Swiss-Bavarian holiday

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin F. Schwers returned recently from a Swiss-Bavarian holiday which included France and Austria.

An interesting event was the ascent to the top of Mont Blanc by cable car while a snowstorm was in progress, transforming much of the area into a winter wonderland. A visit to the Castle of Chillon, made famous by Lord Byron's poem, "The Prisoner of Chillon," was the first of "castle" viewing.

In Geneva the many international sites were of interest as were also the Reformation Monument and the Flower Clock. Definitely noticeable was the lack of air pollution in both Geneva and Munich.

The incomparable Alpine beauty was dazzling.

One day was set aside for a trip to Berchtesgaden, famous for its salt mines and Hitler's hide-away. The Eagle's Nest, perched high in the Alps. Included also was Salzburg, Mozart's birthplace and a site made famous by the filming of "The Sound of Music."

The Church of the Wies, an outstanding example of Bavarian Rococo Art, was visited on the way to the Castle of Neuschwanstein, built on the edges of the Alps near Fussen. This dream castle, built by King Ludwig II, is one of the places most visited in South Germany. The return to Munich was made via Oberammergau, the famous Passion Play village.

The many churches, especially the onion-shaped domes reflecting the Turkish influence, were inspiring. The entire countryside was beautiful as the haying season was in full progress, the cows were in the meadows on the lower Alps, and the flowers and gardens were at their peak.

On their return to Texas the Schwers visited their daughter, Connie, and family, the Jim Leazenbys, in Cypress.

On the tour also were Mr. and Mrs. Marcellus Rambie, Mr. and Mrs. C. Mogford, Mr. and Mrs. R. Sutherland and Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Engel, all of Uvalde. The Mogfords visited relatives in Geneva.

Dress Revue

"Fashion's Unlimited" will be the theme of the 1974 Medina County 4-H Dress Revue to be held Friday, June 28, at 7:30 p.m. at the McDowell Junior High School Cafeteria in Hondo.

Approximately 100 4-H'ers have been enrolled in clothing projects in communities throughout the county. These projects are conducted by volunteer leaders. The objectives of this project are to develop self-confidence and poise, creativity in design, skill in construction and good buymanship. The girls will be judged on clothing records, construction of the garment and the girl.

The top girls in the three age divisions will advance to District 13 competition in San Antonio on July 11.

4-H News

The sewing group of Mariette and Jeanette Aelvoet had their last meeting on Friday, June 21, to complete their clothing project. The members are Brenda Bippert and Mary Jo Rummel.

During this project the girls toured a local clothing store and were given a demonstration on make-up by our local Merle Norman distributor, Mrs. Joe Nixon. The girls also presented demonstrations. Mary Jo gave demonstrations on "Cleaning the Machine" and "Making a Tailor Tack". Brenda's was "Threading the Machine".

Jeanette showed the girls how to use elastic thread when smocking. Mariette gave demonstrations on "Hemming" and "Putting in two easy types of zippers".

At the Friday meeting, the girls filled out their clothing project form finishing their project off for the year. The girls have completed their garments in preparation for Dress Revue.

DO-SI-DO BY THE ALAMO . . . is the theme for the 23rd National Square Dance Convention to be held June 27-29 in San Antonio. Squaring up with a San Antonio group are Dan and Evelyn Herrmann from Hondo's Country Squares.

Country Squares to dance in San Antonio

Hondo's Country Squares square dancing club is looking forward to Do-Si-Do'ing by the Alamo this weekend, June 27-29, as the National Square Dance Convention meets there for the first time.

More than 15,000 dancers from all over the world are expected. More than 13,500 have already pre-registered, including dancers from Canada, Germany, Saudi Arabia, Canal Zone, and a tour group of 74 from Japan.

Among the pre-registrants are 360 callers.

Dancing will begin each morning at 9 a.m. and last until the next morning at 2 a.m.

The convention is held at the Convention Center, with dancing in the Arena, banquet hall, river room, plus three other rooms for specialty dances.

Dancing ends at the Convention Center at 11 p.m. but continues elsewhere with after-dance parties. Most prominent of these is the street dance in front of the Alamo until 2 a.m.

It would be a little tiring to spend all that time dancing, but dancers can sit a little to watch the other activities. Among these are exhibition dancing by 28 groups including a wheelchair group, blind group, teen dancers, clog steppers as seen on TV, and others.

Other sit-down activities are the Fashion Show from 2-3 Saturday afternoon, featuring square dancing models from all over the U.S. and Japan. Models are color-coordinated to slides of Texas wildflowers. Also included are educational panels and a variety show.

Even if you're not a square dancer you can go as a spectator. Tickets may be purchased at the Arena in the Convention Center from 5-9 p.m. Thursday and Friday, and 1-9 p.m. Saturday. The Franklin Wiemers are chairmen of spectator tickets with members of the Hondo club assisting.

The last session of the District meeting adopted the school program of activities for the 1974-75 school year. The Hondo

FFA Chapter will sponsor the FFA leadership and the range and land judging contests.

Hondo ice plant has history

Stanley Kidd, who owns a boat sales and service company in Hondo and has for many years, recently purchased the old ice plant on 18th St., near Hondo Implement.

Though the building will be used for storage at first, eventually Kidd plans to expand his business into boatmaking. The old building will provide much-needed space for his factory.

"It's in very good condition for its age," says Kidd, "and all it's going to take is some flooring and window work to put the building in top shape." "One unusual thing about it, and something I'm going to have a lot of use for, is an electric lift that travels on rails along the length of the ceiling. Guess it was used in the old days to lift those heavy ice blocks and move them around."

Seeing workmen tear out the old wooden floor in preparation for pouring in a new one of concrete, two of Hondo's senior citizens—Doc Taylor and Getter Crow—began to reminisce about the old location in its heyday. Doc and Getter collaborated on the following history:

The ice house was originally the home of Hondo Light, Power and Ice Company, owned by A. G. Walker. The history of the company predates the building itself by several years.

The first electrical generating plant in Hondo was built by Jim Crow about two blocks east of the ice house, across from what is now ESCO's warehouse.

Crow's electric plant generated 220-volt direct current, and was operated only at night. An interesting exception to the nights-only rule was that each Thursday afternoon Crow provided power for Hondo housewives to iron their clothes.

Power was generated by a dynamo turned by long belts from a steam engine. The steam itself came from across the street, where a steam-powered cotton gin stood. Crow was part-owner of the gin along with E. W. Lacy and George Muennink. (When he built the plant he sold out, but had steam supplied to him.)

At any rate, about 1911 A. G. Walker bought the light plant and moved it to a new location two blocks west. Here he changed the mechanism to produce 110-volt alternating current both day and night. Additionally, he built an ice-making plant, and a large refrigerator room for wild game storage. The whole setup was known as Hondo Light, Power and Ice

Company.

Sometime in the 1920's San Antonio's City Public Service Board bought the electricity-generating portion of the business. Walker continued in business with his ice plant until he sold to J. S. MacManus in 1946.

MacManus continued to operate the business until he sold it in 1960. The business closed then, and remained a warehouse until the present day.

OLD HONDO ICE HOUSE . . . once housed Hondo's electric generator. Soon it will house boats for Stanley Kidd, new owner of the building.

Hondo ice plant has history

Stanley Kidd, who owns a boat sales and service company in Hondo and has for many years, recently purchased the old ice plant on 18th St., near Hondo Implement.

Though the building will be used for storage at first, eventually Kidd plans to expand his business into boatmaking. The old building will provide much-needed space for his factory.

"It's in very good condition for its age," says Kidd, "and all it's going to take is some flooring and window work to put the building in top shape." "One unusual thing about it, and something I'm going to have a lot of use for, is an electric lift that travels on rails along the length of the ceiling. Guess it was used in the old days to lift those heavy ice blocks and move them around."

Seeing workmen tear out the old wooden floor in preparation for pouring in a new one of concrete, two of Hondo's senior citizens--Doc Taylor and Getter Crow--began to reminisce about the old location in its heyday. Doc and Getter collaborated on the following history:

The ice house was originally the home of Hondo Light, Power and Ice Company, owned by A. G. Walker. The history of the company predates the building itself by several years.

The first electrical generating plant in Hondo was built by Jim Crow about two blocks east of the ice house, across from what is now ESCO's warehouse.

Crow's electric plant generated 220-volt direct current, and was operated only at night. An interesting exception to the nights-only rule was that each Thursday afternoon Crow provided power for Hondo housewives to iron their clothes.

Just in case you hadn't noticed, last Friday was the first day of summer. Weather-wise, the days have been holding practice with the relentless thermometer recording the scores and they are quite sure this is the good old summer time some of us might have wished for last winter.

I don't know how many Russian words have been worked in to our American-English but Russia has borrowed a few from us and they are spelled this way: "Chouingam, sigarett, odorkolon." Sports include "voleybol, beisbol, futbol." They dance the "TVIST and ROKNROL."

They admit to have tried "STRIPTIZ" but decided it is not "praklika" in a cold climate.

How's this for a eulogistic couplet which appeared in this paper in the early 1900s?
"Ja, der Heinrich ist nicht mehr/ Ach, wie ist dieses Wort so schwer!"

While I was consulting my German dictionary, I noticed a translation for "falsies" and curiosity led me on: "falsher Busen" or, if you have more time to spell and pronounce it: "Schaumgummibusen". By gummi! And both translations in the plural, of course.

Coyotes still make the headlines. A Texas cowboy, Ralph Fisher of Barker, Harris County [pop. 160] follows the American Rodeo Circuit with his unusual bird and animal acts.

He has trained a young coyote to do a tight-wire act. Now Barker plans to get a baby coyote and a baby roadrunner, raise them together and train them for another crowd pleaser.

More than 440,000 adults participated in exams given students who represented 50 states whose departments of education issued those who qualified certificates or diplomas. Average age of those tested was 25 years; average amount of previous schooling, 9.8 years.

The exams included 13,000 given in Spanish. New York state had the largest number of G.E.D. participants. TEXAS was 2nd with 38,000 . . . among whom were several from Medina County. Take another bow!

A pleasant surprise for me last Sunday [Father's Day] was a phone call from BETH [Mrs. Harold] HERRING. She and their two sons had accompanied "Father" to attend the annual JP Association meeting here.

Beth said she called while the boys were taking a last dip along the beach. When she cautioned them several times to "be careful" one of them reminded her that they both had earned Scout Life Guard as life savers during their Scout days.

Seems like mothers always have to be reminded about something!

The soybean that is making agricultural news by leaps and bounds now had been cultivated in China for over 4,000 years before the U.S. began to take it seriously in the early '20s.

It was first grown to be used as hay; now it is in its HEYday around the world, or almost. It is our biggest agricultural export.

Now, let's back up a ways. I have a notebook filled with items copied from Anvil Heralds of long ago. I have completely lost and found it again for the third time. Today, Now, here are a few selections, copied verbatim, from some 1904 issues. Seven decades ago, children!

SCHMITT & STEINHART operated a general merchandise store on Ave. M and they often placed a full-page ad on page one. This one reminds that although those might have been the days in 1904, who wants them back as they once were:

"We offer a selection of fine men's suits of fancy worsteds, cassimeres, chevots and serges, all cut according to the latest fashions. Values to $15 for just $9.98. . . . This is our way to clear incomplete lines on our tables, through PRICE. So, we cut, not gingerly and for effect, but deeply & for a PURPOSE."

This item from the Society Section: "The devotees of equestrian art made the air of Tuesday evening resonant with the tread of cavalry and the art of chivalry, amidst the joyful laughter of youths and maidens."

Probably meant the kids were out on horseback, whooping it up.

More reminiscences, circa 1904: This, from the minutes of the meeting of the County Commissioners Court: "It was ordered that a room on the 2nd floor of the Courthouse, opposite the office of the County Judge in the NW corner of the building, be rented at $2.50 a month to C. C. Harris & L. J. Brucks."

This item was on the subject of advertising in general and advertising in the ANVIL HERALD in particular: "The man who has nerve enough to make a liberal contract for advertising must have FAITH. FAITH in himself, FAITH in his business and FAITH in the newspaper he pays his money to. To grow in FAITH is the efficacy of advertising. Try an ad in the ANVIL HERALD!"

And, by way of proof that Medina County's newspapers "keep the faith" here are some words, kindly written, by our neighboring DEVINE NEWS [Aug. 22, 1904]:

"The Hondo Anvil Herald has now completed its 18th year and is more prosperous than ever before. We predict that the Herald will grow stronger and better as it grows older and prove itself a power for good in Hondo and all Medina County."

Thank you, again, DEVINE NEWS. Here we both still are, 70 (almost) years later but still "on time", mail service willing and the creeks don't come down, as BILL BERGER often said.

This issue of the Anvil Herald, which we hope you are reading, is No. 26, 86th Year, which means we are half way en route to our 87th.

Now, if I don't lose that elusive notebook again, maybe I'll find some more "good old days" to share with you . . . and Thanks for reading!

Golfing oldsters show how to do it.

They say you're washed up when the first digit of your age passes "3"; but like Pancho Gonzales, Bobby Riggs and Slammin' Sammy Snead, the Hondo golfing oldsters continue to play and play well.

Take last week's local Pro-Am tournament, for example.

L. Ruiz, E. Barrientes, P. Behee and Richard Torres captured first place honors in the tournament with a low-ball score of 54.

But in second place, with ages totalling 265 years, was the team of Jack Wells, Cliff Sadler, Tom Mitchell and Blackie Tschirhart with a score of 56.

SPORT FACTS

Ralph Hauger

After Kyle Rote Jr. won the Superstar competition this winter his father said, "It's not easy to follow in the footsteps of a famous son."

Poor attendance at the early games of the Baltimore Orioles brought this comment from Manager Earl Weaver.

"They don't like a loser in Baltimore. Come to think of it, they don't much like a winner, either."

Woman charged in death

A Natalia area woman is being held in the Medina County Jail under a $10,000 bond in connection with the alleged strangulation death of her 10-month-old baby girl Tuesday morning.

Charged with murder is 20-year old Mrs. Loretta Ann Swadley of the Natalia area.

Medina County Sheriff Charles J. Hitzfelder said he was called to the Bill Swadley home north of Chacon Lake shortly after 9 a.m. Tuesday.

The sheriff said when he arrived he discovered 10-month-old Dawn Swadley dead, the apparent victim of strangulation.

The child's mother, who reportedly admitted the killing, was also at the home. The sheriff said the woman had apparently tried to take her own life after the attack on the child and suffered slashes to her wrists.

The youngster died after a piece of material had been wrapped around her neck.

Mrs. Swadley's husband, Glenn, was recently charged by authorities with possession of marijuana and had just been released from the Medina County Jail.

The Swadleys had been staying with Mr. Swadley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Swadley, where the incident occurred.

Mrs. Swadley was taken before a Justice of the Peace and bond was set at $10,000. She was jailed in lieu of bond.

Edwards slightly higher

SAN ANTONIO -- Water levels in the Edwards Aquifer from Uvalde to New Braunfels were slightly higher at the end of May than they were a month earlier, the Edwards Underground Water District has reported.

The single exception was the well at Kyle which declined three and a half feet.

DATSUN SAVES

A lot more than gas

The Li'l Hustler squeezes around 25 miles out of a gallon—about twice the national average for passenger cars. But great mileage is only one of Datsun's saving graces.

It costs less than you'd expect. It's a simple machine with low maintenance costs. And a computerized nationwide parts distribution system gets parts to you fast.

The Li'l Hustler: good sound savings. The kind that have made it America's number one selling small truck.

Outdoors 'n' things

BY L. D. NUCKLES

Vacation time is here again for people - but this is not necessarily true for wildlife, especially snakes. Warm weather, such as we have now, raises the metabolism of the snakes and set them on the prowl for food. Reports are filtering in of snakes being killed around houses, being seen on roads, and doctors are beginning to be called on to treat snakebites.

Texas has the dubious honor of being the number one state in the Nation in the number of poisonous snakebite victims reported each year. This is probably due to the number of western diamond-back rattlers we have. Not only does he carry a large amount of poison for his size, and his size is often nothing to laugh about, he is not a bit reluctant to use that poison. He is considered one of the most aggressive of all poisonous snakes. This may not be true in ALL instances. I have seen diamond-backs that just refused to stand and fight, they tried every way they knew to escape.

I have, however, seen a lot more that wouldn't give an inch and just dared you to try and move them. In fact, many of them, when once aroused, will actually come to you.

The rattlesnakes are livebearers, that is, the young snakes are born alive and frisky and already carrying a load of poison. Most snakes lay eggs but all the pit vipers (rattlesnakes, water moccasin and copperheads) are exceptions to this rule. Of course, there is no connection between the mother and the young such as we find in mammals, but the eggs are just retained in the body of the mother until they hatch. Once the young snakes are born they are on their own. The mother pays no attention to them, and the old tale of young rattlers running into the mother's mouth to escape danger is pure fantasy.

We refer to snakes as cold-blooded, but this is just a way of saying that they have no way to control their body temperature. They take on the temperature of their surroundings. Just think, if we were like that we would walk around in the West Texas sun with a body temperature of 105 to 110 degrees. We couldn't stand that for more than a few minutes, and neither can the snakes. Put a rattler out in the direct summer sunshine during the heat of the day and, if he has no way to escape, he will soon die. This is why you should avoid deep shade around old logs, dense bushy areas, or piles of rubble or rocks. Just after the sun goes down is an especially dangerous time and you should exercise care anywhere you walk in the outdoors. In moving around your camp after dark ALWAYS carry a light and watch where you step.

If you don't mind a few snakes around the house, that's one thing, but if you'd just as soon not have to watch your step every time you leave the house then you can do something to discourage snakes in your area. The prime thing, of course, is to remove their reason for hanging around. Take away their food supply and their hiding places. This doesn't absolutely guarantee a snake-free environment, but it does go a long way.

Clean up trash piles, piles of old lumber, stacks of tile and places of this type. Not only do they make good hiding places for the snakes, but they are gathering places for the snake's food supply, rats and mice. If you get rid of rats and mice you've taken the biggest step in getting rid of snakes. Of course, some snakes, including the water moccasin, feed primarily on frogs and toads, so standing water can be a hazard if you live in an area where these snakes are found.

Do something about that unsightly trash pile, get rid of rats and mice, and clean up back yards and vacant lots. Your home will be safer, healthier, freer of snakes, and besides that -- it'll look better.

Woman charged in death

A Natalia area woman is being held in the Medina County Jail under a $10,000 bond in connection with the alleged strangulation death of her 10-month-old baby girl Tuesday morning.

Charged with murder is 20-year old Mrs. Loretta Ann Swadley of the Natalia area.

Medina County Sheriff Charles J. Hitzfelder said he was called to the Bill Swadley home north of Chacon Lake shortly after 9 a.m. Tuesday.

The sheriff said when he arrived he discovered 10-month-old Dawn Swadley dead, the apparent victim of strangulation.

The child's mother, who reportedly admitted the killing, was also at the home. The sheriff said the woman had apparently tried to take her own life after the attack on the child and suffered slashes to her wrists.

The youngster died after a piece of material had been wrapped around her neck.

Mrs. Swadley's husband, Glenn, was recently charged by authorities with possession of marijuana and had just been released from the Medina County Jail.

The Swadleys had been staying with Mr. Swadley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Swadley, where the incident occurred.

Mrs. Swadley was taken before a Justice of the Peace and bond was set at $10,000. She was jailed in lieu of bond.

Edwards slightly higher

SAN ANTONIO -- Water levels in the Edwards Aquifer from Uvalde to New Braunfels were slightly higher at the end of May than they were a month earlier, the Edwards Underground Water District has reported.

The single exception was the well at Kyle which declined three and a half feet.

At the same time, springflow increased at Uvalde and San Marcos, and remained constant at New Braunfels, the EUWD said.

Leona River Springs were flowing at 34.3 cubic feet per second at the end of May, compared with a 1939 to 1972 average of 10.0.

Well J-1-82 at Castroville, 707.5, compared with recorded high of 731.2 and recorded low of 622.3.

Well I-3-148 at Hondo, 737.1, compared with recorded high of 762.5 and recorded low of 662.3.

Strep throat danger

College Station -- Don't take a child's sore throat too lightly, one expert emphasized this week.

"Although not every sore throat is strep throat, medical attention can prevent complications--such as rheumatic fever and glomerulonephritis," Dr. Barbara A. Sears, health education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, emphasized.

This year finds cases of strep throat and scarlet fever up from the same time period in 1973, she said.

In case of a sudden sore throat--along with certain symptoms, Dr. Sears advised seeking medical attention, especially for children.

"These symptoms include throat discomfort when swallowing, swollen glands in the neck and pain when pressed gently under the angle of the jaw.

"Also if the child feels feverish--with a temperature of 101-104 degrees, which usually indicates a strep infection--or if he complains of headache or nausea, or was in contact with other children who have scarlet fever or sore throats, take him to the doctor.

"Only a physician can determine whether or not there's a strep infection. Proper medical treatment early in the course of infection usually will prevent complications," she noted.

Turning to possible complications, the specialist explained that rheumatic fever can permanently damage a child's heart. This condition, known as rheumatic heart disease, is the most prevalent between the ages of five and 15.

"Glomerulonephritis, on the other hand, results in an inflammation of kidney structures. Blood in the urine, swelling, high blood pressure--and in severe cases, shortness of breath, delirium, convulsions and coma--characterize this condition.

"Although exact cause is unknown, this disease often follows other infections--especially those of the upper respiratory tract," Dr. Sears added.
